

Response Good To Greenwood Fund

Newmarket — Allan Greenwood was removed from York County hospital and taken to Toronto General hospital Tuesday as the next step on the long road to recovery the boy must travel. Allan lost his left foot in an accident with a mower two weeks ago today.

The 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Greenwood, Main St., Allan has retained his high spirits despite the handicap which now must be with him the rest of his life. A lot of that spirit is the boy's natural pluck, his will to "make the best of it," but a lot of it, too, comes from his knowledge that he is being helped by sincere friends, some of whom he has never met, but friends nonetheless.

The evidence of that is on this page where is listed those who have contributed so far to the Allan Greenwood Fund, a trust fund being set up to ensure that Allan will have the kind of education that will enable him to overcome his handicap as much as possible.

Dr. G. M. Peever, who operated on the boy after his accident, said that Allan is now learning to travel about on crutches and is pretty proud of his ability so far. "He is coming along nicely," says Dr. Peever, "and his willingness to try has been a big help in his recovery."

In the meantime, throughout Newmarket and as far away as Lucknow, and Roche's Point, and Toronto, those who have learned of Allan's accident are sending their contributions to the fund, some of them accompanied by notes of "best wishes." In Newmarket, hats have been passed in factories, individuals have brought their contributions to their banks, or the town office or the Era and Express office.

Members of the Business and Professional Women's Club, who offered to canvass Main St., are completing their job tomorrow. The Boy Scouts have canvassed some of the streets in town and will continue this coming week, as will the Girl Guides.

'Pleased With Results' Of Aurora Tax Plan

Aurora — "We are well pleased with the results so far," commented town clerk Harold Clarke referring to the two-in-statement tax payment system inaugurated by the town of Aurora this year. One of the largest amounts ever paid by this date on Aurora taxes has been paid and the net results should be that the municipality will not need to borrow any further sums from the banks against incoming taxes to meet expenses. The bank loan made earlier in the year has been paid off and the October payment will be due at about the time when the corporation might ordinarily borrow money with the December 15 tax date. "It has meant a lot of work in the town office and a lot of work educating the public as to the system, but it looks like a worthwhile plan and a saving to the town and taxpayers," said Mr. Clarke.

Tradition of Rain Broken By St. John's Garden Party

Newmarket — Despite the threat of rain, a traditional bugbear with St. John's church annual garden party, the event last Wednesday was hailed as a success by those directing it. Between 450 and 500 sat down to the dinner served by the ladies of the parish. The booths were well patronized and the Newmarket Citizens' Band, conducted by Wm. Grieg, was given much praise for its performance of concert airs. The night was enlivened by the return of former parishioners who took advantage of the garden party to renew old friendships.

Jack Sine won the money doll. Other winners were: washing machine, F. Crouth; mantle radio, John Hughes; wool blanket, Mrs. G. Plaxton; Kettleby; iron, G. Nagil Jr.; Weston; $5, Miss Amy Calman, Weston; Jack Peppiatt, Father McQuinn, Richmond Hill.

Proceeds of the party are applied to the church maintenance fund.

Carnival Raises Funds For Service Work

Newmarket — The extent of the social work of the Newmarket Lions club places it in a position where it is one of the largest non-municipal dispensers of funds in the town. A glance at its expenditures on service work shows a total of $425.66 in the year ending June, 1948, as well as an additional $836 for the Christmas basket fund.

It is a lot of money to spend and most of it is raised through the annual two-day carnival and dance which this year will be held Wednesday and Thursday nights, Aug. 18 and 19. The first of these days is set aside for the carnival with its bingo, games, its tent show at Lions park. The second day is turned over to a street dance on Main St. to the music of Norm Burling and His King's Men.

A breakdown of the total spent by the Lions club in service work shows that last year, the club bought 1,440 quarts of milk, paid medical bills totalling $623 for children in the Hospital for Sick Children, $100 as part of the expense of a youngster in a sanatorium, $52.50 as part of the expense of a crippled child. These items and others are listed under "child's welfare work". Besides this, $1,354 was spent in grants to town organizations and in "food for Britain" parcels. The summer playground at Lions park is also financed by the club with expenses totalling over $550. Park equipment alone cost the club another $500. Boys' and girls' work was aided to the extent of $268.

These figures, culled at random from the club's financial statement, show not only the extent of the club's activities but the variety of the activities they support although these activities all share the common denominator of service to the community.

The point about it all is that these funds, although spent by the club, can only be raised through the public support of such Lions activities as the carnival and dance. By helping the Lions club help others, everyone shares in the service and work that is needed in the community.

LOSE SON

Wilcox Trespasser Says Home With 'Old Men'

Newmarket — The barn on the Shadow Lake girls' camp grounds again featured in the news as a number of youths appeared in magistrate's court here Friday to plead guilty to charges of trespassing. They were fined $10 or ten days. The youths were found sleeping in the barn.

Andrew H. Williams, Stouffville, farm manager, said that the barn had some 40 tons of hay in it and was used as a regular farm building. He said that there had been a gate leading to the barn but travellers were continually driving through it, leaving it open and the stock would stray. The gate was wired shut and poles placed to block the entrance, but weekend visitors to Musselman's Lake continued to make the barn an informal guest house, he said. Seven boys and one girl pleaded guilty to the trespassing charges. One youth didn't appear and his mother paid the fine. When one youth pleaded not guilty and produced an alibi, Magistrate O. S. Hollinrake remarked that anyone who gave another's name instead of his

Early Start Seen On Fifty Houses

Newmarket — A start will be made shortly on the 50 new low-rental bungalows of the federal government housing project, initiated here through the co-operation of the town of Newmarket.

Officials of the Carter Construction Company, to which was awarded the contract for building the homes, said that excavations for the foundations would be begun as soon as the grading and preparation of the land by the town had been arranged.

Under terms of the arrangement, the town pays the costs of land and services in excess of $600 a lot, with the federal government meeting the cost of the actual building. The homes will vary in size and form of construction but all are designed for the low rental bracket. Veterans are given preference.

Company officials said that it is expected to complete the foundations and outside carpentry work before cold weather. "Chain construction" methods will be used with the carpentry gangs following on the heels of the excavation crews. All 50 homes will be built at once and work, once started, will be delayed only to the extent that deliveries of material are held up.

The project has had a stormy history to date. It was first mentioned in council in the early fall and was followed by a mass meeting. It was an issue of sorts in the municipal elections and then appeared on the verge of falling through for lack of site.

The purchase of county land lying to the south of Eagle St., and to the immediate west of the town revived hopes of an early start, but these were dashed when the federal government cancelled all such projects following legislation by the province making housing contracts subject to provincial scrutiny. When the legislation was suspended, the project was given the "go ahead" signal and tenders called. Again there was dismay as costs rose over the estimates prepared by the government. However, on a second call for tenders, a contract was arranged between the Carter Construction Co. and the government, and now it is expected the homes to be near completion before snow flies.

Village Bakery Meets City Competitors

Mount Albert — In this era of mass production and stiff competition from huge city bakeries, the small country bakery of long standing is becoming the exception. But, there is one in Mount Albert. It was established 47 years ago by Walt Kitley, and has been owned for the past 30 years by Robert R. Davis. More unusual still is the fact that Mr. Davis was a farmer of many years experience in this district before he turned baker. He savored the delicious smell and taste of a fresh crusty loaf as much as any man, but never felt the least interest in a batch of dough until 1918. In that year he was looking about for another farm. Real estate prices were sky high, and he did not want to buy. Unable to find one that suited him for rent, he decided to buy Kitley's bakery and grocery in Mount Albert.

Walt Kitley had begun in a modest way, baking in his cellar at home, and peddling the bread by horse and wagon. The business grew rapidly and in a few years he was able to build the present large brick building, 22 feet by 98 feet long, with two floors and a basement. It was a going concern when Mr. Davis took it over, and he added another sideline, flour and feed. Guy Williamson, who had been a baker for Kitley, stayed on with Mr. Davis for 21 years until he enlisted for service in the last war. Acting as his helper, Mr. Davis learned from him the fine art of making good bread and buns. It was seven years, he says, before he considered himself a first class baker.

Two trucks leave the bakery daily and cover country roads within a 12 mile radius of Mount Albert. They sell all they can handle, the natural outcome of an established reputation for good baking, and also something of a tribute, when so many country stores are stocked with bread from Toronto.

Still interested in the land, Mr. Davis owns a farm but rents it out. He is now content to take things more easily, leaving the active management of the business to his son, Ernest, a graduate of the baking school at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph — (D.M.F.)

To Keep Fund Open Pending Final Collection

Newmarket — At a meeting of the three temporary trustees of the Allan Greenwood Fund, Mayor Joseph Vale, chairman, Clerk Wesley Brooks, treasurer, and John Meyer, editor, secretary, it was decided to keep the fund open for the time being, pending the settlement of a definite amount.

The fund will then be created into a definite trust, to be administered with the advice of a Children's Aid representative, in a manner which will ensure that Allan will receive the best possible education to help overcome his handicap.

Full details of the final settlement of the trust, with an audit, will be published in the Era and Express at that time.

In the meantime, Mayor Vale, as chairman, said that "the response to the fund by the citizens of Newmarket has been one of which everyone can be proud. It is a credit to Newmarket that individuals, both in Newmarket and without, will respond so readily to this cause."

Legion 'Aux' Has Strawberry Festival

Newmarket — A successful strawberry and ice cream festival was held at the Legion club grounds on July 15 by the Ladies' Auxiliary. Over 300 attended. Perfect weather helped to make the event popular and the candy and bake tables were sold out early in the day. The fish pond proved a real favorite of the young ones. Later in the evening both modern and square dancing to the music of Charlie VanZant's orchestra was enjoyed.

There was euchre for the non-dancers. At the close of the evening lemonade and cake refreshments were served to the large group.

The ladies of the auxiliary worked hard to make this event so successful with many members quick-freezing strawberries in season for use with the ice cream at this festival.

SUBSCRIPTION RATE UP 50 CENTS

The steady increase in production costs has left no alternative but to increase the subscription rate of The Newmarket Era and Express by 50 cents a year. This is in keeping with a similar increase made by other weekly newspapers of The Era and Express circulation class.

The increase is effective August 1. All subscribers, regardless of when their current subscriptions expire, have until August 1 to renew at the $2 rate for one year, $3 for two years.

After August 1, the rate will be $2.50 yearly, $3 for two years - in the U.S.A. $3 yearly, $5 for two years. Present subscriptions remain at the old price until they expire, then the renewal will be at the new price.

The price per copy of 5 cents remains the same.

More on Selby Burial Ground

Near the east fence of the cemetery and towards the centre, rusty chains square the family plot of the Selby family. Three stones record the deaths of Robert Selby in 1818, Thomas Selby in 1837 and Sarah Wellin, relict of Thomas Selby, in 1859. There is little doubt that the Thomas Selby is the same man to whom the farm adjoining the burial ground was granted by the crown in 1812. Robert could have been his son or his father. The date of Robert's interment, 1818, is the earliest we discovered, although the chances are there was earlier use of the burial grounds.

Near the Selby plot lie the remains of Martin Stiles and wife, Rebecca, the death of the latter recorded as 1855. A Martin Stiles was one of the six to whom the land was originally deeded by John Weddle and chances are they are the same.

Stones Tell Sad Story

There is another group of stones with the name Stiles inscribed on them and their inscriptions tell a sad story. Near the markers for Henry and Thirza Stiles there are smaller stones for their seven daughters. Three of them died within days of each other. Submit at two years, Elizabeth at four years, Joanna at six years, in the spring of 1832. Philona died in 1838 at nine months, Lovina in 1841 and Clarissa, an infant, in 1842. The seventh daughter was Candace but the inscription is illegible. From the situation of the stone, it would seem likely she too died in 1832. Were these unfortunate children victims of diphtheria or scarlet fever?

Three generations share the Spooner family plot, or so it would seem from the inscriptions on the stones. There was Elder James Spooner (1842) and his wife, Nancy (1856), Leander Spooner (1860) and his wife, Margaret (1881), and their children, Hannah at five years and Isaac at three years, both dying in 1853. There is also in the same plot, Mary Jane Spooner, wife of Addison Williams, and their daughter, Mary Jane, who died at two years in 1866.

Names picked at random read like a roll-call of the first families into the district: Smalley, Sweezy, Farquhar, Grieg, Traviss, Harvey, Little, Hamer, Peregrine (Peregrine), Mather, Rogers, Dawson, Glover, Weddle, Wright, Granger, Greenwood, Atkinson, McFarlane, Hollett, Hillis, Simmons, Duclos, Fenton, Leopold, McLeod, Dunham, Milne, Boag and Wilson.

First of Their Line Here

Notable was the number of stones on which was inscribed

the native land of those they commemorated, first of their line in Canada, ancient as their families might be in Northumberland, County Derry and Yorkshire.

There was no indication on the stones of the attainments of those who lay beneath them except within a thicket of lilac bushes where stand the stones of Hon. Alexander Arbuthnot (1870), his wife who was a Mather (1866) and their son (?) John (1858). Was the "Honorable" an address of courtesy, or was Alexander Arbuthnot high in his country's councils, a legislator perhaps, or administrator?

There is not much more to say of the Selby Burial Ground from the information we have. Undoubtedly there is much, much more that could be said of this historical landmark, seemingly forgotten in the passage of years. There are those who might question the worth of this interest, but it seems more than justified to us. The more we can learn of those who founded this country, the richer our heritage with its resolution and courage to guide us in the future.

What more there is to be said is locked in the memory of the living, or to be found on the pages of family documents. There will always be space here for additional information which will help unfold a fuller history of this district.

The Office Cat Reports

Ginger Hears Wilbur's Sad Story

From Somewhere on the Shores of Lake Huron—Dear Boss: I notice by the daily press that Wilbur has caused some excitement among the passengers of one of those excursion steamers. The passengers say they saw a monstrous sea serpent which makes Wilbur smile because by sea serpent standards, he is really only a little fellow, not yet having attained his full growth.

But I am forgetting that you do not know Wilbur, boss. His full name is Wilbur Sandy McDonigle and he is a nephew of the Loch Ness sea serpent. But boss, Wilbur is not at all like his uncle. He is of a shy and retiring disposition and he has a social conscience which is more than can be said of some other sea serpents.

'Self Made Sea Serpent'

In a way, Wilbur rather admires his Loch Ness uncle for the place he has made for himself in the world. "Uncle is a self made sea serpent," says Wilbur with some pride. But just the same, Wilbur does not approve of his uncle's scrapbook of press clippings and the things uncle will do just for the sake of the publicity. "It is very undignified of uncle," says Wilbur.

As a matter of fact, boss, Wilbur has been very upset by the commotion he caused aboard that excursion steamer. "I just came up to the surface to admire the sunrise," says Wilbur, who is something of a poet. "I thought everyone aboard the ship would be sound asleep but I had forgotten that they have these social directors who go around pulling people out of bed and making them enjoy themselves. That's why they were all up and saw me."

But to get back to Wilbur's uncle, boss. As Wilbur says, uncle will do anything to get his name in the paper, but Wilbur says it wasn't always like that. "Uncle used to swim around Loch Ness but nobody paid any attention to him," says Wilbur. They said he was impossible and told him to go away. Uncle used to become very dejected and moped around the bottom of the Loch.

Hires Press Agent

"Then one day," continues Wilbur, "uncle decided to hire a press agent. The press agent fixed up uncle with a pair of flame throwers and uncle used to go around lighting the fishermen's pipes. But he stopped that after a while because they still didn't believe he was possible and kept telling him to go away.

"And then," says Wilbur, "the press agent hired a professor who came up and took some pictures and wrote a lot of scientific nonsense about uncle being a throwback to the prehistoric days. And then the papers printed the pictures and the professor's articles and people began to wave to uncle as he swam by. They even arranged shore parties where uncle was the guest of honor and the event was written up in the social news. Thus fame came to uncle," says Wilbur, "but it went to his head and he is forever showing off with somersaults and such like."

Wilbur Is Different

As I say, boss, Wilbur is different. He is not like his uncle and he asks nothing of life but a mess of herring at regular intervals. Wilbur says that he doesn't want people to believe in him because it is too much a strain for them. That's his social conscience, boss. So he pretends he isn't and most people believe it. And all this publicity is most unpleasant to Wilbur, boss, because of his retiring disposition. And to think it all came about because Wilbur was so interested in the sunrise and he forgot to pretend he wasn't and some people saw him and believed him—if you follow me, boss.

I guess you were wondering why Wilbur was down around Bruce Peninsula. Well boss, as I say, Wilbur is of Scotch descent and when he heard of the Bruce county reunion, he just couldn't resist going over for a day or two. But the trip is spoilt because people are going to believe Wilbur is even though Wilbur has convinced himself that he isn't.

It's a tough world, boss.

Cinder Wins Last-Ditch Reprieve

A last-minute reprieve saved the life of Cinder, a black Labrador retriever, following an impassioned plea for the dog's life by the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt Johnson. Cinder's charge was that he, in company with another dog, killed seven sheep, valued at $1,100, on the farm of William Brodie, on the townline between Markham and Whitchurch twps., November 24. Markham twp. issued an order for the destruction of the dog after the killing, but Mrs. Johnson refused to allow the order to be carried out maintaining that Cinder didn't kill the sheep. The dog, she said, had been raised with a lamb, and he was very fond of it and would protect it from any teasing. Two constables were called to exam-

The twp. officials asked that Mrs. Johnson be prosecuted for refusal to allow her dog to be killed and on July 19 at the final hearing Cinder was ordered into court. Cinder, who slobbers liberally, showed good manners and never spoke out of place. Though not sentenced to be killed Cinder is, in a way "in the dog house" because he must be tied up or properly attended at all times when loose.

Though their pet is not to be killed the Johnsons are up against it in another way because Markham twp. council wants them to pay half of the $1,100 paid to William Brodie as compensation for the sheep lost. To a couple faced with the expenses of the husband's illness of 15 weeks in the hospital that is a lot of money.

The editor of the Stouffville Tribune has the last laugh. A few years ago in an editorial he suggested the "fantastic" idea that the best way to fight forest fires in the Vivian forest would be to have the water bucketed there from Musselman's Lake by plane and then drop it on the fire. The suggestion met with laughter. Recently it was announced that a tiny water tractor tank, which could be carried by planes of the Ontario department of lands, is under study as an additional means of coping with forest fires. In the U.S.A. such equipment is being tried out.

A complete moving picture apparatus was installed in the Wilson Hardware store, Aurora, recently and advertising moving pictures were taken featuring James Wilson, proprietor of the store, as salesman, and Mrs. Craig MacKenzie (Val McNaught) as the customer.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

Mineral Deficit In Soil

A few inches of top soil is all that stands between existence and starvation. And the margin that soil represents is rapidly narrowing. To grow nutritious crops, to nourish healthy livestock, the soil must have the necessary minerals. In the United States, it is estimated that two and a half million tons of phosphates are lost annually through grazing and harvesting, and nearly three million tons through erosion. The loss is proportionate in Canada.

Most farmers acknowledge the need to return to the soil the minerals they have extracted from it in the form of crops. They fertilize their fields and rotate their crops. They practice methods of soil conservation. Is it enough? The estimate above indicates it is not. Nor is the deficit confined to phosphates. The soil is steadily being impoverished of its minerals, minerals essential to our health.

Canada annually spends millions of dollars on various forms of health schemes. Would it not be more practical to go one step further to prevent instead of cure? Only minerally rich soil will grow the minerally rich food essential to healthy bodies with their resistance against diseases upon which so much is now spent to cure. It would be more practical to divert some of the present health expenditures to a national program of soil conservation and revitalization.

Farming Is First Of All A Business

The average age of the Canadian farmer is well beyond his physical prime. At a time when men in other walks of life are planning their retirement, the farmer is still doing the same work in a day that he did as a young man - and with no prospect of retirement unless he sells his farm outright or, if among the comparatively fortunate few, is able to turn his farm over to a son.

Young people are not remaining on the farm. The higher wages, the shorter working hours of the city are too attractive to be resisted. If they mean the forfeit of the independence, the greater security of the farm, the bargain is still better for the city-bound farm lad. Independence on a farm doesn't mean any more money in the bank, or easier toil.

Possibly a fundamental error of concept, the attitude that farming is "a way of life," is at the bottom of the economic disparity between farm and city incomes. This concept has been used to excuse every economic grievance that farmer has raised. And the farmer, for the most part, has accepted it. While farming has certain features that set it apart from all other professions, it is primarily a business, operated primarily for the income it creates.

The sooner farming is completely acknowledged as the business it is, and economic conditions made favorable to it, the sooner it will have the healthy replacement of youth it requires.

In Defence Of Speed Traps

A large part of the automobile driving public considers "speed traps," created by placing a policeman under a tree or behind a billboard with a stop watch in hand at the end of a measured portion of the road, as highly unethical. It is not, they will say, playing the game. Neither, for that matter, is breaking the law.

Those who so regard speed traps are frequently apt to approach the highways with the same light-heartedness of boys playing cops and robbers. They have their own set of standards, speed limits and the Highway Traffic Act notwithstanding. A ticket after an open chase is a fair win by the police. The chance remarking of an offender by a roadside policeman is a trick of fate but still acceptable. But speed traps - they are really not sporting.

It seems a curious way to interpret the law. A trap set for the burglar and successfully sprung wins public applause for the police. What difference, apart from the degree of the offence, is there between a trap for the burglar and for the speeder? The function of the police is to apprehend lawbreakers. If speed traps are necessary to halt speeders, then they should be used. There is generally a good reason for the speed limits on any given stretch of highway. To ignore them, despite the opinions of the sporting automobilists, is to jeopardise others, and no standards of sportsmanship countenance that risk.

The editor is indebted to Elmer Starr, for his "History of the Hamlet of Bogartown" which Mr. Starr completed after considerable research. The "History," too lengthy to be printed in one issue, will be printed as a weekly series. This is the second of the series.

By ELMER STARR

"At a meeting of the freeholders and householders of School Section No. 3 in the twp. of Whitchurch held pursuant to motion, Arnoldi Haight was called to the chair and Francis Starr was appointed secretary. William Stephens, Sr., John Wasly, Sr., William Wallis, Philip Bogart, Joshua Bogart and Arnoldi Haight were nominated. A poll being demanded, William Wallis, Philip Bogart and Arnoldi Haight are declared duly elected trustees." So reads the first minutes of the above mentioned S. S. without date of day, month or year, and without signature. The next set of minutes starts out with:

"At the annual meeting of School Section No. 3 in the Township of Whitchurch held the second Wednesday in First month" . . . etc. and as before no year date is given. Another minute of this meeting shows how the finances were raised. This minute is as follows: "Was moved and seconded that the rate bill for the present year be twenty cents for twenty-two days tuition. Carried." However the accounts which are given in pounds, shillings and pence are dated 1857, and the expenses for that year totalled £485 5s 7½d, which included seats for school house, fencing the yard, blackboards, maps, stove and various other articles necessary for a new school house. In 1859 the more modern method of reckoning finances in dollars and cents was adopted. Francis Starr, a married man with a small family, was paid the sum of $344.65 for teaching; total expenditures for the year were $469.28. The trustees did much towards financing the school as until the year 1862 the records show a

"balance due the trustees."

The progress in the direction of free schooling is evidenced by the following minutes of the annual meeting of 1865: "Moved and seconded that the school be free, moved in amendment and seconded that a rate bill of one cent for each day's tuition be collected. Amendment carried." This continued in effect until the year 1878 when we find in the annual meeting minutes this rather blunt but effective: "Decided that the school moneys shall be collected by the township council." Teachers following Francis Starr were R. Jennison, George A. Bogart, Joseph H. Webb, F. Burrows, M. C. Smith, George Rose, Joseph W. Stephens, Samuel Jewett, J. A. Sangster, Wm. Smith, Robert I. Terry, Sadie E. Cameron, Josephine E. Nugent, Ada Grey, Marion Rennie, Harriet Risebrough, George B. Abbott, Stella McMillan, Nellie D. Harrison, followed by Garnet Kirby, who in turn was followed by Miss Fennell, after which D. W. Evans wielded the rod with such effectiveness as to win his way into the affections of the scholars and ratepayers that they allow him to remain in their midst in peace and tranquility and continue to appreciate him as a friend and neighbour. He was followed by Alex Wilkinson, when we again are favored with a line of the gentler sex, namely: Misses Waterman, Gillespie, Fee Wagg, Johnson, McDowell, Meek, Williams; after which the school board, considering a little masculine influence might benefit the school, secured the services of A. D. Forbes, continuing with J. W. Brown. We then find the board were again more favorable to the feminine teachers by engaging in succession the following: Misses M. Reynolds, M. L. Forth, L. C. Bingham, S. A. McQueen, R. Wellman, and the present incumbent, M. Buckenfield (1948). While the female teachers far outnumber the male yet a comparison of the length of time of service reveals that no woman teacher has as yet outlasted the men. Miss S. McQueen held the record for the ladies, being 8½ years, but was eclipsed by two male teachers, S. Jewett (8½ years) and G. Rose (9 years).

There were also others who taught during illness of the regular teacher, chief among these being Hannah J. Starr, a native daughter of Bogartown, a Miss McCallum from Schomberg, and Ila Haines of Sharon. Nor was it alone in length of service that male teachers showed their superiority over the women, but in matrimonial enterprise they again outclassed them as two of the male teachers, namely Jennison and Forbes, found their life companions in our little burg, while "Nera" a one of the 22 lassies, young or otherwise, succeeded in trapping a Bogart-town boy.

Big Doings Planned at Sutton

An editorial of 25 years ago praises the people of Sutton who have established a summer fair, to take place August 10 and 11. They are specializing on the horse show and have issued a large prize list. Ten horses have entered the steeplechase. The directors have engaged a large tent which will be erected south of the main building for the exclusive use of the horses during the fair. The track has been leveled and re-clayed and is in wonderful shape. To accommodate the immense crowd that is anticipated the adjoining ball grounds will be used. The editor has expressed a wish that everyone attend and make this effort a great success.

On Tuesday evening, Walter Collins, while fishing with a hook and line from the Roche's Point wharf, caught a bass that measured 17 inches in length and weighed about four lbs.

The earth that is coming off Queen St. and other streets at the north end is being used to widen Timothy St., north of the Specialty works.

Thursday evening, just as the road machine at work on Raglan St. was shutting down for the night, Lorne Brown had the misfortune to get his thumb caught and it was mangled.

The editor is of the opinion that a man should be appointed to collect the town taxes at a salary of $800 a year. In this way outstanding taxes could be collected.

An interesting letter from Rev. D. Norman, who is doing missionary work in Kanazawa, Japan, is published on the front page of 50 years ago. Rev. Norman teaches English four afternoons a week to 100 Japanese students, and once in two weeks they have an English service, the singing, Scripture lesson and address being in English. Each Wednesday evening he receives callers, generally they want help in some piece of English literature, or sometimes they play games or ask about Canada, but the students are always eager to read his magazines and papers. Rev. Norman writes that there is a great demand for English in Japan and some of the Japanese newspapers have an English department.

During the absence of Mr. A. West from his barber shop Tuesday evening, some thief entered the front door and cleaned the till of the entire receipts of the day. Mrs. West was in the adjoining room but did not hear a sound.

A bush fire broke out in the 6th of East Gwillimbury last Friday, which threatened to become serious. Cane's factory sent a number of men out on Saturday to get the fire under control.

It was 98 in the shade here on Sunday. A public meeting of the ratepayers of the town was held Friday evening to consider a proposal to grant the Office Specialty Co. $5,000 to aid them in enlarging their buildings. There had been rumor that they were going to move their metal department to Toronto. It was agreed that the council submit to the ratepayers a by-law to raise $5,000 for enlarging the buildings.

Greater Prosperity in Town and Country

Modern Massey-Harris Machines Increase Output per Man and give the Farmers Greater Buying Power

On Saturday nights all across Canada, the shopping centres of towns and smaller cities are crowded with farm automobiles and farm people. Side by side, with the town dwellers, farm people buy all kinds of consumer goods, from breakfast goods to broadloom rugs, from canned goods to cosmetics, from radios to refrigerators.

Time was when farm buying was more limited, when farmhouse furnishings were more meagre. The change is due directly to the increase in the buying power of farm families. The reduction in operating costs and increased output per man effected by modern farm machinery gives farm families today more income from their operations in supplying agricultural products for home and export markets and more money for both the necessities and luxuries of life. Greater prosperity for all.

Massey-Harris, builders of farm implements for over one hundred years, has contributed in no small measure to this progress through the development of modern labor-saving farm machinery.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT

Summons Day Late Charge Withdrawn

Newmarket — A charge of dangerous driving against Dr. J. W. Bartholomew was dismissed for lack of evidence and a charge of careless driving was withdrawn in magistrate's court here Friday. Magistrate O. S. Hollnake ruled that evidence presented in the dangerous driving charge did not indicate recklessness that could be considered to support a dangerous driving charge.

The careless driving charge, laid under the Highway Traffic Act which states that summons must be served within ten days of the offense, was withdrawn when postmarks on the envelope indicated the summons was served one day late.

The charges arose from an accident involving a collision between a car driven by the accused and a motorcycle driven by R. H. Stanabaugh, Toronto, in Keswick on June 22. E. A. Richardson, K.C., and Joseph Dales appeared for the accused. Stanabaugh said his motorcycle had collided with the car driven by the accused approximately two feet on the wrong side of the centre line. The accused said he had been driving about ten miles an hour, following another car, and had turned out to pass a parked car when the accident occurred.

NORTH YORK LIVESTOCK TRUCKERS ASS'N.

Thank You..

Having been in the flower business in Newmarket for over 40 years, 18 of them in Perrin Flower Shop, at all times trying to serve our customers honestly and give full value for money received, we are sorry we have to give over now. Owing to ill health we find it impossible to give the business the attention it requires.

We are pleased to turn it over to our son, Stuart A. Perrin, who we feel sure, will strive at all times to keep up the Perrin tradition and give honest value at all times.

It has been a pleasure to serve our friends and customers for so long a time. (We might say, in our many years, we have married quite a few, or rather made their wedding flowers and in the course of time made the wedding flowers for their children.)

The store will still be known as Perrin's Flower Shop, Stuart A. Perrin, Proprietor.

Thanking you again for your patronage, and wishing you health and happiness.

ANNA M. PERRIN

P.S. We ask for your continued patronage for Perrin's Flower Shop, Stuart A. Perrin, Proprietor.

Stuart is our third son, who served with the Canadian Army, and on being discharged, decided to take over the business when we should give over.

FARM BULLETIN

CONSIDER THE HONEYBEE

Only the honeybee can produce honey and wax. In Canada she is responsible for 35 to 40 million pounds of honey and about 600,000 pounds of wax annually. Yet this is the least part of her usefulness.

Sex is just as important in plant as in animal life. Each female flower must be fertilized. Insects are by far the most active agents in accomplishing this, and of those the honeybee is most important. She is the only one whose numbers can be controlled. She can be moved to an area in which she is needed. Many fruit trees and bushes, vegetables and legumes would be barren without insect cross-pollination. There would be less livestock feed, less cover crops to rejuvenate wornout soils.

So great is the value of the honeybee that innumerable apiaries are located in or near orchards and in seed fields. Many growers even take up beekeeping for pollinating purposes.

Loans to cover the beekeeper's needs, and those of other responsible farmers, may be had from our nearest branch. Our experienced, capable manager has the ability to serve you well.

Homemakers' Exchange

Ham is a good hot weather meat for town home or country camp. It keeps longer without refrigeration than fresh meats.

Ham sandwiches or cold sliced ham are almost standard fare for picnics. A whole ham is a grand buy for the larger family but may be a luxury for a smaller group.

The family of two or three may buy a slice from the large end, or perhaps a two or three-pound butt end. A cottage roll or a picnic ham is the choice of many small families. These are hams by courtesy, as they are cured shoulder pieces. However, the cure is the same as for ham, so when cooked, the difference is slight.

Boiled ham or shoulder is a good standby, served hot or cold. When the piece is eaten down to the end, and will not slice nicely, there are many ways in which those last delicious morsels may be used to advantage.

Here are two recipes which make excellent use of left over ham:

HAM SOUFFLE

2 tbsp. fat
1 tsp. chopped onion
2 tbsp. flour
1/4 tsp. paprika
2 cups milk
1/2 cup bread crumbs
2 cups cooked ham, chopped
1 egg yolk, beaten
1 egg white, stiffly beaten
Melt fat, add onion and cook slowly 2 minutes. Blend in flour and paprika and continue cooking 2 minutes. Stir in milk and bring to boil. Pour over bread crumbs. Add ham and beaten egg yolk. Cool slightly. Fold in beaten egg white and pour into a greased baking dish. Set in a pan of hot water and oven-poach in a slow oven (300 deg.) for 1 hour. Makes 6 servings.

HAM SALAD

2 cups diced, cooked ham
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1/2 cup cooked peas or well-drained canned peas
1/4 cup chopped pickle
1/4 cup salad dressing
Salt and pepper to taste
Toss all ingredients together. Serve on lettuce with radishes and green onions.

McLEAN-SWITZER RITES JULY 22

Amid a setting of white gladioli and pink and blue larkspur, a quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized by Rev. R. K. Perdue in Trinity Anglican church, Aurora, on Thursday afternoon, July 22, when Jean Jinkinson Switzer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Switzer, Vancor, became the bride of James Ronaldson MacKay McLean, son of Mrs. McLean, Chatham, N.B., and the late Mr. George McLean.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Kenneth Switzer, was beautifully gowned in ice blue crepe with navy accessories and carried a bouquet of gardenias, talliesman roses, gypsophila and bovardia. Her attendant, Mrs. George Morrison, was dressed in floral silk with dusty pink accessories and carried a bouquet of tea roses, gladioli and bovardia. Mr. Murray McLean, Ashtabula, Ohio, was groomsmen for his brother. The ushers were Mr. Kenneth Babcock and Mr. George Morrison.

During the signing of the register, I Love You Truly and Through the Years were played softly on the organ.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Clifford King, Mark St., Aurora.

Mrs. Hiram Switzer, mother of the bride, gowned in grey crepe with black accessories and corsage of talliesman roses and gladioli petals, received with Mrs. George McLean, mother of the groom, dressed in navy crepe and corsage of tea roses and blue delphinium petals.

For travelling the bride chose navy blue crepe and wore a corsage of gardenias. After a honeymoon in Haliburton and north western Ontario the happy couple will live in Chatham, N.B.

Guests were present from Toronto and Longlac, Ont., New Brunswick and Ohio.

CHILD LOST!

Is there any more appalling thought than that of a child being lost in the city, in the country or in the woods? One can envision so many horrible things that might happen, for newspapers and radio leave us in no doubt as to what can happen.
Kidnapping, drowning, exposure are just a few of the dangers that beset the lost one and to parents the accumulation of possibilities are a tragedy in themselves.

This community, as far as I know, was never, until a few weeks ago, faced with this fear—
a child lost. However, one day not long ago this very cry re-echoed in our neighborhood when Mr. and Mrs. Paul discovered that Frank, the older of their two little lads, failed to answer
the summons to supper.

At first they thought he must just be playing about out of sight but when searching and calling failed of results, alarm took the place of vexation and neighbors—Mr. Srott, Haycocks, Bogarts and the Roy Harpers—all who knew—started off in different directions. Mr. Paul following the creek, which although shallow in most of its length, has some deep spots and dangerous should the child fall.

False Alarms
Many a time as they stumbled over rough ground or through the tall grass some object would look like a child's head and the searcher would rush thither—
only to find a stone or a hump
of dried grass.

Once the distracted father found a little tin pail, such as his lads often played with, close to the creek and a sick feeling of fear came into father as he felt it might have been dropped as the child left it to play in the water.
Meanwhile his mother had another fear. Earlier she had seen a car stop and a man get out just where Frank was playing. At the time she thought nothing of it, for many people stop there to catch minnows, but when the child disappeared, a thousand things she had heard about children being abducted came to torment her and having to stay at home with small Douglas, she had nothing to do but think—and fear!

She could hear calling in the distance as the search continued, but no joyful "found" came to her ears and at last, in despair, she went to the back door and began calling on her own account.

She was just going to give up
when from the window above
her head a small, sleepy, but unspeakably welcome voice piped
"Here I am, mamma."

Almost unable to believe her ears until her eyes gave credence, she flew upstairs and grabbing the small cause of all the turmoil and holding him tight to be sure he wouldn't vanish away, she heard his tale.

It seems that he played so hard
he got sleepy and went upstairs to lie down. Then he remembered that his mother had put a pretty, new spread on his bed and rather than disturb it, he crawled under the bed and there,
through all tumult, the heart break and the shouting, he slumbered peacefully, never re-realizing that he had caused more of a commotion than he might ever cause again in his whole life.

It was a very tired but happy
group of neighbors that gathered when the hunters realized that the lost was found.

Not every such tale has such a happy ending but to the joy of everyone concerned, this one had.

Young Hopefuls

By DOROTHY MUIR BOWMAN

Conrad, who met with a serious misfortune at the age of ten, quit school when he was 12 years old. No one blamed Conrad for quitting school. On the contrary, everyone wondered that he continued as long as he did, under the circumstances.
Previous to adolescence, Conrad was seemingly a callous child with the ability to fight his own way despite the odds that were against him. However, with the young adolescent, life at school became unbearable and his sensitive nature sought isolation
from all society.

Conrad was only four years old when his mother died and he and his older brother and sister were left in their father's care. He learned early to shift for himself. Conrad used his spare time doing odd jobs for neighbors to help increase the family income. Everyone liked Conrad and his honest, handsome face.

At the age of ten a severe illness left Conrad's face partially paralyzed; and, almost overnight, his handsome features were distorted and twisted beyond recognition. Conrad's appearance was decidedly repulsive
—even to those who knew him best. His own sister would scream with fright at the sudden sight of him.

Mental Suffering
No one knows how much Conrad suffered mentally during the next two years. He was so upset emotionally that he could not learn at school—which distressed him even further. The ridicule and pity became so unbearable that he finally quit school at the age of 12. He hated and despised himself because of his affect on little children, who were frightened and ran from him.

There was just one slim thread of hope Conrad had to cling to—it was offered by the old family doctor, who was experimenting with electric treatments in an attempt to relieve the pressure that seemed to be responsible for the paralysis. At the age of 13, Conrad was placed by the state in an opportunity class for special children. Conrad didn't feel such a misfit in this group.
Each child had his own peculiarity and their training helped them to accept each other with more understanding than the ordinary child in the average classroom has occasion to acquire.
Conrad was able to continue his schooling in this new surrounding.

Miraculous as it sounds, after over five years of facial disfigurement, the paralysis left and Conrad's normal facial expression returned—quite suddenly.

Today, Conrad fills an important and respected position in one of the largest state schools for special children on the continent. His earning power puts him in the higher brackets, financially; and his understanding of the needs of special children is without parallel. He is their friend and benefactor—forever, and substantially, grateful to his state for the privileges he received, as a special child, in an opportunity class.

Pine Orchard Busy On Simcoe Front

By Geo. Haskett, Jr

With less than a month to go to complete the schedule, it's still Mt. Albert atop the league race in the Simcoe circuit, Keswick a close second, and Hope in third spot.

The Pine Orchard softball brigade have been the busy bees on the diamond this last week. League proxy Ross Chapman has been keeping them on the jump. They had four games to settle during the week. The Orchard crew got three into the record books, strutting home with two wins and a loss and the fourth, scheduled for Zephyr, Tuesday had to be called because of rain. Last Friday, playing at home to Hope, Pine Orchard lost a close 7-5 decision, Lefty Don. Glover holding a slight edge over Pine Orchard's Ted Tidman.

Glover helped his own cause with a towering homer.

Monday the Orchard men took the visiting Sharon crew over the hurdles 9-1, Harvey Preston taking over the hurling burden for the winners while Ivan Eves toiled for the Sharon side. Pine Orchard made two big innings—the third, three runs, and the fifth 6 runs—to bring them down in front. Bob Shaw counted the lone Sharon marker with Bruce Pegg and Harold Farr providing the hitting power for the run. The Shropshire duo, "Chick" and Bob, clubbed the old apple heavily for the victors. Harvey Preston moved down six Sharon swingers via the strike-out route. Jack Petrie, Sharon third sacker, and Lowell Ash, in right field for Pine Orchard, provided the nifty fielding efforts.

Pine Orchard's other "go" of the week gave them a 10-3 win over Vandorf, Ted Tidman earning the laurels as the winning moundsman by turning in a fine effort. Coach Harry Brammer must be getting his squad up into a contending position for a play-off berth.

Now what have we here? Queensville beating Zephyr Blues 11-10, Queensville's second win of the campaign, Knowles doing the hurling for the winners with Ron. Kester and Stan. Rynard sharing the Blues' pitching. Hold that phone please. What's this? Well, what do you know, the game is awarded to the Blues as the winners used ineligible players. That's sad music for jolly old Queensville.

Mt. Albert knocked the merry old stuffings out of Brown Hill Thursday with Red Mitchell tossing another shut-out effort. The score was Mt. Albert 12, Brown Hill 0. The Queensville - Keswick Friday night shindig was just that, so the story goes. The teams got down to swinging the dukes as well as the baseball bats. It ended up with Keswick taking the verdict, the softball verdict that is, 17-4.

Billed as the battle of the year, the Mt. Albert and Hope Tuesday tilt was a victim of the weatherman. So Mt. Albert's Murray Roberts and Hope's Lon. Ganton will have to try again at a later date, to settle the issue.

Future games: July 29, Keswick at Sharon; July 30, Vandorf at Willow Beach, Brownhill at Queensville; Aug. 2, Vandorf at Queensville, Mt. Albert at Sharon, Brown Hill at Pine Orchard; Aug. 4, Willow Beach at Keswick, Pine Orchard at Hope, Sharon at Vandorf.

Last-Ditch Rally Gives Ladies Win

Anyway you say it, Thursday evening's softball bill of fare put on by the visiting Midland Park-sides and our own Newmarket Ladies was a thriller. The Newmarket maids snatched a victory right out of the hands of our northern rivals with another of their famous last inning rallies. They shoved over three runs in that last round. They needed two to tie and three to win as the last of the seventh rolled around. They got the three and took a 6-5 victory. The win, truth to tell, was great compensation for the loss suffered at Midland last week. The triumph boosted our gang into a four-point lead in the league standing. The fans—while almost having heart failure—enjoyed every minute of the fun and excitement.

Recapping that big rally in the seventh, here's the picture: Midland was leading 5-3 when Phyllis McInnis slapped out a single

Benefit Friday For 'Mickey'

Down The Centre

By AB HULSE

You owe it to yourself and those Game Guys who tote the gutted stick in honor of canaltown to drop over to Newmarket arena tonight and catch a glimpse of Charlie Rowntree, former district hockey maestro and his Woodbridge boxla team, who are currently leading the intermediate O.L.A. group and look ahead for honors, barring accidents. The Newmarket warriors have dropped 13 straight games, used close to 30 different players in an attempt to strike a winning line-up, and set a record of some sort for goals scored against them. It takes a lot of moxie to take it on the chin and keep coming back for more, and whatever may be said of the folks in Newmarket toward the team, they are highly respected around the circuit for the fact they've kept every obligation, tried hard all the way, and only lacked experience, and one or two key players to be a lot higher in the standing. Despite their losing efforts we venture to suggest that at either Aurora or Bradford, the team would be drawing double or triple support.

Sorry to see that prince of goodfellows, and sportsman superb, Mickey Smith end his softball career with a painful injury. We trust the fans will show their appreciation of over a decade of honorable, friendly, and clever participation in softball when the benefit games are held. It's not so much the monetary angle as tangibly showing that regard you have for him in the best way possible.

Bob Hodgkinson wishes to send "Ceeegars" McDonald, the Davis Leather boys, and all the Newmarket Horseshoe Tossers a challenge from the Aurora unions and factory teams to meet them on the green sward at Aurora Legion field day on August 13-14. With district Legion branches represented, and the top performers from down Markham way, and throughout the townships coming to show their skill, the tournament looms as the biggest ever staged in North York. Get out those shoes now and "Slap her down again, Pat!"

Aurora Trims Vets In Saturday Game

By GEO. HASKETT, JR.

The Saturday evening experiment was a success. It was successful, as coach Chuck VanZant of the Vets had hoped, in rounding up the largest fan turnout-out of the season. It wasn't a success so far as the Vets taking a fall out of Moe Walsh and his Aurora contingent were concerned. Normie Bagnell on the Aurora mound was on the beam with his throwing arm to hold the Vets in check with four hits and two runs. The Walsh-men gathered in seven hits for six runs.

Two boots by the Aurora infield and a walk helped the Vets fashion a two-run lead in the first. Ken Tupling, a Bradford lad with the locals, crossed with the first and Doug Eves with the second. Seldom after that did the Vets threaten as Normie Bagnell proceeded to mow them down with the utmost regularity.

The Aurora band of softballers didn't break their string of goose eggs until the fifth as "Joint" McComb matched the invader's pitcher ball for ball. Then "Joint" brought about his own downfall as he handed out successive free passes to Andy O'Neill, Jerry Acheson and Mickey Sutton. Short-stopper Earl MacDonald, Aurora's main hitting threat, teed off for a triple to plate three runs and scored himself with the fourth on Moe Walsh's long fly to right field. The Aurora brigade added two more in the eighth as a safety measure. Normie Bagnell singled and "Silent" Doolittle reached the initial sack on an error by first-sacker John Hisey. Some hot foot base running and a sacrifice by Andy O'Neill wound both up at the plate.

Newmarket could only scare up a quartet of base hits. Harvey Gibney, who liked the week-end atmosphere, had two of these, a triple and a double. In the eighth, Gibney's triple went for naught. He was nipped at the plate trying to stretch it into a round tripper. "Joint" McComb and Chuck VanZant had the other two safeties.

Aurora amassed a total of seven hits. Normie Bagnell and Earl MacDonald chalked up three each, centre fielder Jerry Worth the other. Fred Dillman came up with the fielding gem with a shoe string catch on Moe Walsh and then stopped on second to double MacDonald off the sack. Jerry Acheson stepped up front and centre on the Aurora defensive with two nice running catches.

WINS RAZOR

Doug Nisbet, Aurora, scored a nice win last week in the Ontario Golf tournament held at Peterboro. Competing along with seven other golfers from the Highlands club in the class B series Doug fired an 88 in his first time on the course which was good enough to capture the low net prize. Mr. Nisbet is now using a fine electric razor as a result of his prowess on the links.

CYCLING TOUR

Anyone interested in cycling? Newmarket Teen-Town is in the throes of organizing a cycling trip into the Niagara district for the last week in August. The trip will be for eight days and cover 425 miles. Since nights will be spent in Youth Hostels arrangements have to be made now. It is expected to have a mixed group, so everybody is welcome. Anyone interested should contact Dick Edwards, box 331, Newmarket, or Barney Westcott, Bradford.

IN TOURNAMENTS

Both Newmarket softball teams, the Vets and the Ladies, will be away Monday taking part in tournaments. The Vets will shuffle over to Mount Albert to take part in the Sports Day being staged there, to defend the Geo. Allison Trophy which they have annexed at Mt. Albert for the past two years. Frank Courtney will lead the Newmarket Ladies team into a tournament being held in Cobourg.

WINS ROAD RACE

Billy McClelleny finished first in the five-mile road race held by the Aurora Cycling club last week with the veteran Cliff Chapman in second place. Every Wednesday the club meets at Cousin's track and holds either sprints or road races.

Newmarket Vets' softball machine is going to have to travel the rest of the season without the services of their star left fielder. Sliding into second base in a game at Langstaff last Thursday, Alfred "Mickey" Smith had the misfortune to fracture his leg. It is certain that the heavy slugging outfielder is going to be missed around the Vets camp. He was up among the leading contenders for the league batting crown and as usual was fielding in top form. Last year and the previous year, he landed on the all-star league team and looked headed for another term.

Interviewing "Mickey" at the York County hospital, he quipped: "Well, I've held up a few games in the past, but this is the first one I ever stopped completely." That's just what happened. Langstaff and Newmarket were tied 7-7. "Mickey" drove out a double and went sliding into second base and—bingo, that was it. The game was halted there and never got going again.

Now don't think for a minute his pals on the Vets are letting any grass grow under their feet before coming to the aid of their outfielder. Friday night, the Vets softball organization is staging a benefit night. The diamond activity will be headed by a fixture, Lake Simcoe All-Stars versus the Vets. There will be a draw for prizes donated by local merchants. Chuck VanZant, Harry Boag, and Freddie Dillman and the rest of the Vets have tickets on the draw and are looking for a big fan turnout. We'll be seeing you there, 7 bells S. S. School Grounds.

Lacrosse: Charlie Rowntree will lead his league-leading Woodbridge squad into town tonight. The young gaffers, we are informed by head man Harold Gwyn, will be admitted to the arena for the game free of charge.

Horse shoes: The first meeting in the horse shoe pitching challenge series went to Harry Doonan and his Tannery Tossers over "Ceeegars" McDonald's Hoffmann team. The Tanners racked up 300 points, Hoffman's 150. Tannery team was made up of Capt. Harry Doonan, Les Wright, John Cryderman, Ollie Gould, Gord Simmerson and Howard Fairbairn. Hoffman's countered with Capt. Jack McDonald, Bob Benville, Grant Blight, Bob LeAshien, Roy Stephenson and Roy Smalley. The teams renew the feud tonight at the Davis pits. Both captains are promising a revamped line-up.

Scissored items: Pete Neufeld is on the prowl for some softball or baseball opposition for his Specialty squad. Pete is looking for a game with any of the other local factories. A telephone call to the Hoffman plant will get you a game, Pete my friend, and a licking, too, so they say at the north end.

Hoffman softball: In the very near future, Hoffman's will have a three-team factory softball league in action. The teams are the Ramblers, captained by "Ceeegars" McDonald, the Hoffman herd with "Pat" McLean as boss-man, and the Drill Twisters with "Hank" VanZant in charge. General manager Dewey Kuhns is likely to toss the opening pitch to start the league rolling. Newmarket Ladies continue to head the Barrie and district softball league. They play Copacos here tonight.
